INFORMATION DOCUMENTS IN THE ALTERNATIVE TRADING SYSTEM
ON NEWCONNECT AND CATALYST

Chapter 1
General provisions

This Exhibit determines the form, extent and detailed rules of preparing the information document referred to in § 2.1(13) of the Alternative Trading System Rules by issuers of financial instruments introduction of which to trading in the alternative system is sought.

1. An information document should contain true, fair and complete information about the issuer and other persons specified in this Exhibit, their legal and financial situation as well as financial instruments referred in the document that are to be introduced to trading in the alternative system, subject to sub-paragraph 3, according to the status prevailing on the day the issuer files an application for these instruments to be introduced to trading in the alternative trading system. Information in the information document should be presented in the manner allowing investors to assess the impact of such information on the issuer's economic, property and financial situation and prospects of development. If due to the specific nature of data described in the information document, such additional information must be provided as warrants that they provide a true, fair and complete view, or has a significant impact on the assessment of financial instruments introduction of which to trading in the alternative system is sought, the issuer must contain that information in the information document.

2. If under this Exhibit, information about the issuer's group must be provided in the information document or the issuer decided to provide such information in the information document, the document should also contain appropriate information about associates and co-subsiidiaries (within the meaning of the Accounting Act, and for issuers based outside the Republic of Poland – within the meaning of accounting regulations applicable to them), being companies whose business is relevant to the business of the issuer or its group.

3. The balance sheet date as at which the issuer prepares financial statement or consolidated financial statements included in the information document may not precede the date of the application to introduce financial instruments to trading in the alternative trading system by more than 15 months.

1. The information document may be prepared in Polish or English.

2. Any information contained in the information document shall be presented in the order specified in this Exhibit.

2a. If any information to be disclosed under the provisions of this Exhibit does not exist or does not apply, a relevant note shall be put in the relevant place in the information document.

3. The information document should not contain any technical or professional expressions that may be unclear to purchasers of financial instruments that are not professionally related to the issuer's business or the capital market, without their proper explanation.

4. If information contained in the information document is expressed in a currency other than the zloty or the euro, the issuer must specify such average exchange rates to the zloty and the euro for that currency, as established by the National Bank of Poland and as applicable in the period covered by consolidated financial statement or financial statement, including without limitation:

- 1) the rate prevailing on the last day of each period,
- 2) the average rate for each period, calculated as an arithmetic average of rates prevailing on the last day of each month in a period, and where justified, calculated as an arithmetic average of rates prevailing on the last day of a period and the last day of the preceding period,
- 3) the highest and lowest rate in each period.

1. The information document shall be prepared in electronic form, in a manner preventing any unauthorised changes being made to information contained in such document.

2. (repealed)
